

A Colonial Thanksgiving

Not the Thanksgiving the Puritans observed, with their wild turkey and simple appointments, but a modern day of thankfulness and feasting, enhanced by a table setting of Colonial Silver, so much in vogue at the present time.

The importance of having one's table appointments in thorough keeping with the dinner served, should not be overlooked.

A Pretty Table Will Increase the Pleasures of the Day

The simplicity of outline and the refinement of decoration, found in the new Colonial designs of Silver, so fittingly mark an occasion of this kind. Handsome Hollow Ware; a complete service of Spoons, Forks and Fancy Serving Pieces; a good set of Carvers; with pretty Cut Glassware—all tend to make the day one of the happy events of the year.

Elks' Dancing Party.

The most brilliant social function of the fall season was the reception and dance held Wednesday evening by the B. P. O. E. at their home on 4th and Dewey streets. The spacious rooms of the home were decorated with potted plants, large chrysanthemums and streamers of the Elk colors, several hundred additional lights in purple and white were used in beautifying the interior of the building.

An informal reception was held early in the evening after which the Elks and their ladies were entertained with dancing.

Music for this occasion was furnished by the Stamp Orchestra which rendered a program of the popular selections of the day.

During the evening punch was served by a number of young ladies and later a banquet was served on elaborately decorated tables in the dining room where the ladies were presented with pink and white roses as favors.

The committee in charge were highly complimented upon the features of entertainment which they had provided and the enjoyable manner in which the program was carried out.

Had you ever considered that the silver your grandmother owned is one of the few heir looms that remain in your own family. Don't you think the purchase of some real good silver would be wise, it would be handed down to your children and be a treasured heirloom to them as well as a great joy to your family. We have the new colonial designs. DIXON, The Jeweler.

Baptist Church.

The first service last Sunday was the bible school at 10 a. m. The interest of the past two months was more than maintained. The attendance exceeded that of a year ago, which was then thought good, by forty-two. Justice can not possibly be done to those who are coming until the new building is occupied, which may be in about a month.

All the services of the day had their equal share of interest. The morning service was well attended, and the evening evangelistic meeting had a specially fine audience. Those present had the pleasure of witnessing a beautiful baptismal scene. The young people's meeting in charge of Mrs. John Mang had a good response on the topic "Mistakes we often make." Next Sunday all the usual services will occur except that the evening service will be rendered by the Sunday school. This will be a program on our country in connection with home mission week. The morning message will be a special theme "Our country's debt to Christ." All are welcome.

Proof Against the Hottest Sun

The asphalt saturated material of which PEERLESS is made absorbs the heat and keeps it out of the house. Also it keeps the heat in when the wintry winds are blowing.

Low expense, more years of wear and absolute satisfaction—that's what PEERLESS ROOFING will mean to you. All that is necessary to lay it is to unroll, nail and cement it at the laps. We furnish the nails and cement free. Remember, PEERLESS is the best roofing known and the one backed by the strongest guarantee. Come in and see a sample. Also ask for free booklet describing ARCOLITE ornamental roofing.
